A NATURAL LEADER

BY TERESA VARLEY
STEELERS.COM

It's a city I love
playing for. —CAMERON
HEYWARD

Cameron Heyward is the pillar of the Steelers' defense, a stabilizing force who has earned his role as a defensive captain for the sixth straight year for a reason.

It's because he does things the right way, both on and off the field.

His leadership is visible on a daily basis to his teammates, and even to those who have never stepped foot in the Steelers' locker room. It's how he works, how he encourages others, how he inspires others, and how he sets a constant example for others.

It's a role he will continue for at least the next five years after signing a new contract before the start of the 2020 season, which will keep him in the black and gold through the 2024 season, and keep him in a city he absolutely loves.

"To be in the city where I was born, where I have family, it's meant a lot to me," said Heyward, the Steelers No. 1 pick in the 2011 NFL Draft. "It's a city where I am embedded in the community. It's a city I love playing for."

"I am honored and humbled to get a new contract, but at the end of the day, the job is not done."

And bingo, that is what a leader should say. Heyward could have two sacks, and he would talk about the one that just got away from him. He could have eight tackles and kick himself for not getting the ninth.

"I think first and foremost when you are a good leader you have to be a good player," said David DeCastro, who was selected in the first round of the 2012 NFL Draft, one year after Heyward. "Cam has proven that over his career. He has only gotten better as he has gotten older. It's been cool to watch him evolve. He is only a year ahead of me. Watching him grow as a leader has been impressive. Everything has been earned in the right way the way he has done it."

Heyward, who was a first-team AP All-Pro selection in 2019, the second time he earned the honor, has been a rock for the defense throughout his career and dominated more than ever last season, finishing the year with nine sacks and making his third straight Pro Bowl.

"Cam is special," said Coach Mike Tomlin. "It starts with his consistency. Not only consistency in presence — he is a guy who is ever-present — but consistency in work, consistency in urgency, there is great consistency in everything he does. I think it provides a good floor in everything he does. He doesn't ride an emotional roller coaster. You know what you are going to get from Cam. It starts first and foremost with his willingness to be present and engaged and be consistent in every aspect of his life."

It's more than being just a good leader. It's backing it up with on-field play that earns the overall respect.

While teammates are always quick to give love to Heyward, he is just as quick to credit his teammates for his own success.

"Having great teammates allows you to play freely," said Heyward. "I just want to hold up my end of the deal, whether it's being a leader of the team, a teammate, being a part of the Pittsburgh Steelers. I want to make sure you never think I am shortcutting you or only giving you 25-percent. I am going to give you everything I have, and I have been blessed to play a pretty long career here."

AP ALL-PRO

3X PRO BOWL
SELECTION

◀ Heyward's 2019 honors include being named a first-team All-Pro and Pro bowl selection.

Heyward has 54.5 career sacks, ranking him eighth in team history, and continues to get better with age.

"We had several good players on defense last year, but Cam is the one who has done it for a longer period," said General Manager Kevin Colbert. "He has been able to sustain his level of play on the football field. There are points in a game where he is unstoppable. There are just times when he reaches a different level. I think back on the Indianapolis game last year, which to me was his best game. That is the one that stood out. He had a dominant type performance in that game."

Dominant is a word that is often used when talking about Heyward, something every athlete should strive for.

"He is such a physically imposing guy," said Tomlin. "The way he does his job is in a very physical fashion. It's something all of us have a lot of respect for and can appreciate. Always a very emotional player. Over the years it's been fun to watch him gain control and weaponize that emotion."

If you are looking for someone who personifies what it means to play for the Pittsburgh Steelers, you don't have to look any further than Heyward.

"Cameron is a Pittsburgher through his family, his grandparents, his mother, having been raised here, and his father (Craig Heyward) having been the great player for the Pitt Panthers," said Colbert. "Cam was deeply rooted in this community before he even joined the Pittsburgh Steelers. We feel like he has taken significant steps to continue his family's legacy in this region."

"He is a natural leader in the locker room, on the practice field, in the cafeteria, on game day, before and after a game. He is a truly proven leader. He is a special player. That has been documented by his play and the honors he has received in the National Football League and through his off-the-field endeavors with his community involvement and activities."

He doesn't just wear the black and gold, it's in his heart, in his soul and his love for his team motivates him daily to be a better player. And his love for Pittsburgh motivates him to be a better person off the field. Through the Heyward House he has reached out to Pittsburgh and gone above and beyond in giving of his resources, time and love to help those in the community.

We have a job to do and want to make sure we take advantage of that

—CAMERON HEYWARD

"Every day I am trying to help someone out," said Heyward. "I know as a kid I was given those opportunities. Learning from different people, interacting with different people. Having two grandparents who were teachers in the Pittsburgh Public School system, you understand heroes come in different forms, different role models. I could go through a list of heroes and role models and none would be the same because I have learned from so many different people and still am. That is what I am trying to provide for children, give them another outlet whether it's through sports, talking, making sure our future is bright."

Giving back is something Heyward never had to be told to do, but rather something he has always wanted to do, something that was always in his heart.

And he does it every chance he gets.

"Cam came from a football family. He understood what his dad, Craig Heyward, did as a college player at Pitt and as a professional football player," said assistant head coach John Mitchell. "He has been around football. He knows what it takes to be a good football player. He knows what hard work is. He isn't selfish. The thing I like about Cam since he has been here, he came with an attitude of whatever it takes I am going to be a good football player."

"When he got here he saw some of the older players give back. The smart ones pick up on that. Cam is tireless. The money, the time he gives, you can't say enough good things about the guy. I love being around the guy. Not because he is a good football player, but because he is a good person."

Heyward's caring attitude, his passion for helping others, benefits so many organizations he works with through his foundation.

"I am very blessed to use my foundation to do that," said Heyward. "I am proud of everything we accomplished and keep doing more."

"You never know how you are going to affect kid's lives, but the more opportunities you provide, the more you get involved in, you can really hit home. You never know what someone's situation is, but if you continue to care and give back, you can change a life."

Heyward has also been a strong voice regarding the Steelers' social justice outreach.

"We can't be blind with what is going on," said Heyward. "We have seen too many injustices to be silent. Our community is hurt day in and day out. We are left with the question, why. As we are held accountable on the field, we want to be accountable off the field. We feel others should be as well."

"When we see injustices happen, we see ourselves, our children, our fathers, our sons, our friends. For us to stand idly by and not make a difference, that is a responsibility we can't give up."

Heyward is a part of the social justice committees among the players for them to have avenues to make an impact. They range from working on voter engagement and working on a voter hub, to community, police and criminal justice reform.

"We understand the job is not done," said Heyward. "We have a job to do and we want to make sure we take advantage of that."

The way he does his job... it's something all of us have a lot of respect for."

MIKE TOMLIN

Mike Tomlin was named the 16th head coach in Pittsburgh Steelers history on January 22, 2007.

Hired at the age of 34, Tomlin became only the third head coach hired by the Steelers since 1969. In his 13 seasons as head coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers, Tomlin has accomplished many things that have never been done in the team's storied history. A franchise known for stability at the head coaching position, Tomlin ranks among the League's longest-tenured head coaches following the 2019 season.

Tomlin became the youngest head coach in NFL history to both coach in and win a Super Bowl when he led the Steelers to a 27-23 victory over the Arizona Cardinals in Super Bowl XLIII (36 years, 323 days). By winning the Super Bowl in only his second season as a head coach, he also became the fastest to win a Super Bowl title in Steelers history.

In his 13 years as head coach of the Steelers, Tomlin has led Pittsburgh to six AFC North titles, most recently in 2017, and has guided the Steelers to the playoffs eight times, including two trips to the Super Bowl (XLIII and XLV). Tomlin has won at least five home games in each of his first 13 years, including five at Heinz Field in 2019.

Tomlin has sent a total of 61 selections to the NFL's annual Pro Bowl, including the five players who received Pro Bowl honors for the 2019 season. Additionally, Tomlin was appointed by Commissioner Roger Goodell to the NFL's Competition Committee in March 2013.

Tomlin is one of only eight coaches in League history to win a Super Bowl within his first two seasons as an NFL head coach. He is the only head coach in Steelers history to lead the team to two Super Bowls in his first four seasons at the helm, including an appearance against the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl XLV. He is one of only two Steelers head coaches to win three division titles in his first four seasons.

Tomlin has led Pittsburgh to a 133-74-1 record in the regular season since becoming the team's head coach in 2007 - the second-best record in the NFL during that time span. His 133-74-1 regular-season record (.642) is the best start in franchise history.

Pittsburgh was beset with injuries in 2019. The Steelers lost quarterback Ben Roethlisberger with a season-ending elbow injury in Week 2. Running back James Conner missed six games, wide receiver JuJu Smith-Schuster missed four games, and was sidelined for the majority of two others, and defensive end Stephon Tuitt missed the final 10 games of the season. Even backups - quarterback Mason Rudolph and running back Jaylen Samuels missed multiple games. Starting center Maurkice Pouncey missed three games. Starting left guard Ramon Foster and starting tight end Vance McDonald were both sidelined two games for concussions. Undrafted rookie free-agent Devlin Hodges was forced to play in eight games (six starts), and, despite an 0-3 start, Tomlin still led Pittsburgh to a record of 8-8.

Tomlin helped a Steelers defense that ranked as one of the NFL's best in 2019. Pittsburgh led or tied for the League-lead in sacks (54.0), quarterback hits (117), takeaways (36), fumble recoveries (17) and rush TDs allowed (7).

The Steelers also ranked among the NFL's top-five in interceptions (2nd, 20), interception rate (2nd, 3.89%), passing defense (3rd, 194.6), yards per play allowed (3rd, 4.74), passes defended (3rd, 83), yards per rush allowed (3rd, 3.79), forced fumbles (t-3rd, 19), tackles for loss (t-3rd, 90), opposing passer rating (4th, 80.7), pass yards per attempt allowed (4th, 6.06), total defense (5th, 304.1), scoring defense (t-5th, 18.9) and offensive TDs allowed (5th, 30). The Steelers also limited 11 opponents below 200 yards passing, which led the League.

Tomlin secured his 13th straight non-losing season with the Steelers' eighth win in 2019, a 23-17 victory at Arizona in Week 14, a streak dating back to his first season as the team's head coach in 2007. Tomlin is one of three head coaches in NFL history to begin a head coaching tenure with at least 13 consecutive non-losing seasons - joining Marty Schottenheimer (14, 1984-97) and Don Shula (13, 1963-75).

Steelers defense ranked as one of the NFL's best in 2019.

Tomlin reached 125 career wins in the fewest games (192) in team history, tying him with Bud Grant for the fifth-fewest games by an NFL head coach to secure 125 regular season wins. He is the third head coach in NFL history with 133 or more regular-season wins in their first 13 seasons as a head coach, joining Tony Dungy: 139 and Shula: 138.

Over the past five seasons (2013-19), Tomlin has led the team to a 24-9 record in the month of December/January.

Tomlin led the Steelers to a record of 9-6-1 in 2018, becoming one of five head coaches in NFL history to begin a head coaching tenure with 12 consecutive non-losing seasons. With a Week 5 win against Atlanta, he and quarterback Ben Roethlisberger broke a tie with Chuck Noll and Terry Bradshaw for the most wins by a head coach-quarterback tandem in franchise history. The duo's 118 regular-season wins are the fourth-most by a head coach-quarterback pairing in NFL history.

Roethlisberger set single-season franchise records for touchdown passes (34), pass completions (452) and passing yards (5,129) in 2018, while leading all NFL players in pass completions and passing yardage. Wide receiver Antonio Brown led the NFL with a single-season franchise record 15 TD catches. Brown and second-year wide receiver JuJu Smith-Schuster also made history, becoming the sixth wide receiver duo in NFL history and first in Steelers history to record 100 receptions and 1,000 yards apiece in a single season. Smith-Schuster was voted team MVP for his breakout year.

With Tomlin at the helm, six Steelers were named to the Pro Bowl for their 2018 performances — the third consecutive season with at least five selections. Brown, running back James Conner, defensive tackle Cameron Heyward and offensive linemen David DeCastro, Maurkice Pouncey and Alejandro Villanueva all received Pro Bowl accolades.

In 2017, Tomlin led the Steelers to a 13-3 record, including a 6-0 record against the AFC North, securing his sixth division title and a No. 2 seed in the AFC for the postseason. The team's 13 wins marked the most wins in a single season in the Tomlin era.

Under Tomlin's guidance, Roethlisberger became the eighth quarterback in NFL history to reach 50,000 passing yards, finishing the 2017 season with a career total of 51,065. Brown was voted team MVP for his outstanding performance and became the first Steeler to earn the honor four times (2011, '13, '15 and '17). Brown led the league with 1,533 receiving yards and set an NFL record for the most receptions (582) and receiving yards (7,848) by a player in any five-year span in League history.

For the second straight season, running back Le'Veon Bell led the AFC in scrimmage yards per game (129.7) and surpassed his own Steelers single-season record for receptions by a running back with 85. Defensively, the team led the NFL and set a Steelers single-season record with 56 sacks in 2017.

MAKING HISTORY

Tomlin is 1 of 3 head coaches in NFL history to begin their tenure with 13 consecutive non-losing seasons.

The head coach-quarterback pairing of Mike Tomlin and Ben Roethlisberger hold the record for most win in franchise history.

For their efforts, Roethlisberger, Brown and Bell were named to the Pro Bowl along with kicker Chris Boswell, linebacker Ryan Shazier, and offensive linemen DeCastro, Pouncey and Villanueva. Brown, Bell and DeCastro were also named AP All-Pro, along with Heyward. Heyward and fullback Roosevelt Nix were also added to the Pro Bowl roster prior to the game.

The Steelers finished with an 11-5 record in 2016, and won each of the team's final seven regular-season games, to secure the AFC North title and No. 3 seed in the AFC for the postseason. It marked the fifth time Tomlin led the Steelers to at least 11 wins in the regular season. Pittsburgh won its first two postseason games, vs. Miami in an AFC Wild Card Game and at Kansas City in an AFC Divisional Playoff, before falling to the New England Patriots in the AFC Championship Game.

Bell was voted the Steelers' MVP for his 2016 efforts. He led the NFL in scrimmage yards per game (157.0), and he became the fastest player in NFL history to reach 3,000 rushing yards and 1,500 receiving yards in his career (38 games). In the Steelers' Week 14 victory at Buffalo in 2016, Bell set the single-game team record with 236 rushing yards and tied the single-game team mark with three rushing TDs.

Roethlisberger and Brown continued to etch their names in NFL history. Roethlisberger finished the season with the ninth-most passing TDs in NFL history (301) and the 10th-most passing yards in NFL history (46,814). Brown set numerous NFL records, including one for the most receptions in a player's first 100 career regular-season games (622) and one for the most receptions in NFL history by a player in any four-year span (481).

Tomlin also reached his 100th career win in 2016 and did so in the fewest games (157) in team history. He became the eighth head coach in NFL history to reach 100 regular-season wins in their first 10 seasons.

Despite significant injuries to multiple starters during the 2015 season, the Steelers finished with a 10-6 record (2nd in the AFC North) and advanced to the Divisional Round of the playoffs. The Steelers finished third in the NFL in total offense (1st in the AFC), while the defense posted 48 sacks under first-year defensive coordinator Keith Butler. The 48 sacks were the third most in the NFL in 2015.

In 2014, Tomlin orchestrated one of the top offensive outputs in team history. The Steelers broke numerous offensive records, including points scored (436), total yards (6,577), passing yards per game (301.6) and total first downs (379). On an individual basis in 2014, Tomlin guided Roethlisberger, Brown and Bell — who all made the Pro Bowl — to record-setting years.

Arguably one of his best coaching performances may have come in the second half of the 2013 season. Despite an 0-4 and 2-6 start to the season, the Steelers finished the regular season surging to a 6-2 second-half record, falling just short of the playoffs.

NFL LEADING DEFENSE

In 2012, Tomlin led the Steelers to a 27-10 victory over the New York Jets in the home opener, becoming the first coach in team history to win his first six home openers. The Steelers finished the season with the top-ranked overall defense (275.8 yards/game) and finished first in passing defense (185.2 yards/game).

In 2011, Tomlin led the Steelers to a 12-4 record, marking the second straight season the team posted 12 wins, which was only the second time in team history it had been achieved. The Steelers finished the season with the top-ranked total defense (271.8 ypg) and scoring defense (14.2 ppg). Pittsburgh posted a 7-1 record at home in 2011, for the second time in Tomlin's career (2007). He also had five players (Roethlisberger, Mike Wallace, Pouncey, Troy Polamalu and Brown) selected to the Pro Bowl following the season.

Tomlin's seven road wins during the 2010 regular season tied a Steelers record previously set in 1978 and 2004. The Steelers finished second in total defense under Tomlin's guidance in 2010, allowing only 276.8 yards per game. Pittsburgh led the NFL and set a team record in rushing defense, yielding only 62.8 yards per game (1,004 yards), the third-best total in NFL history dating back to 1970. The Steelers also established an NFL record in 2010 by not allowing an opponent to rush for more than 75 yards in any of their first eight games during the regular season.

In all, the Steelers' defense led the NFL in 2010 in rushing yards allowed (62.8 yds./game), points allowed (232), touchdowns allowed (22), quarterback sacks (48), rushing average (3.0), yards per play (4.5) and yards allowed on first down (4.08). It finished second in the league in passing average (6.31), turnover advantage (+14) and red-zone efficiency (40.0, tied).

Under Tomlin, the Steelers broke new ground on offense in 2009. Pittsburgh's offense ranked seventh in the NFL (ninth passing, 19th rushing) but became the first unit in team history to boast a 4,000-yard passer (Roethlisberger), two 1,000-yard receivers (Hines Ward, Antonio Holmes) and a 1,000-yard rusher (Rashard Mendenhall) in the same season. Pittsburgh's defense ranked fifth in the NFL (third vs. run, 16th vs. pass) while leading the AFC and finishing one shy of the NFL lead with 47 quarterback sacks.

The Steelers continued to be dominant at Heinz Field under Tomlin in 2009. Pittsburgh finished with a 6-2 home record after finishing 7-1 (2007) and 6-2 (2008) at home during Tomlin's first two seasons.

Tomlin finished the 2008 season with a 12-4 record and his second consecutive AFC North Division title, becoming the only Steelers head coach to win division crowns in each of his first two seasons. He also set a record with 22 regular-season wins in his first two years at the helm and is the only Steelers head coach to win at least 10 games in each of his first two seasons. Tomlin's .688 winning percentage (22-10) after two years is the best in Steelers history.

BACK TO BACK TITLES

Tomlin finished the 2008 season with a 12-4 record and his second consecutive AFC North Division title.

The Steelers' defense was dominant under Tomlin's guidance in 2008, leading the NFL in total defense (237.2), pass defense (156.9), points per game (13.9), total yards per play (3.9), rushing yards per attempt (3.3), passing yards per attempt (4.7) and third-down efficiency (31.4), while finishing second in rush defense (80.3).

Tomlin led the Steelers to a 10-6 record in 2007 and became just the second coach in team history to post a winning record, win a division title and earn a playoff berth in his inaugural season. Tomlin began his head coaching career by becoming only the second Steelers head coach to win his first three games. During 2007, the Steelers became just the fifth team in NFL history to win their first four home games by at least 20 points.

Tomlin guided the Steelers to the NFL's top-ranked defense in 2007, yielding only 266.4 yards per game. The Steelers' defense ranked third in the NFL against both the run (89.9 avg.) and the pass (176.5 avg.), and finished third in the league in total yards allowed per play (4.6). Pittsburgh's defense led the NFL in passing yards per play (5.7) and first downs allowed per game (15.6), and finished second in the league in points allowed per game (16.8).

The Steelers' offense finished third in the NFL in rushing (135.5 avg.) during Tomlin's first season, sparked by Willie Parker, who led the league in rushing before injuring his leg in Week 16. Roethlisberger enjoyed a record-setting season during Tomlin's first year, establishing new team records for TD passes (32) and passer rating (104.1) while earning his first career Pro Bowl appearance.

Tomlin was the NFL's second-youngest head coach in 2007, and he became only the second Steelers coach in team history to win at least 10 games during his first year at the helm. The Steelers posted a 7-1 record at home in 2007 and were 5-1 in the AFC North (3-0 at home).

Tomlin spent the 2006 season as the Minnesota Vikings' defensive coordinator. That season, the Vikings ranked eighth in the NFL in total defense and first against the run while not allowing a 100-yard rusher the entire season.

Tomlin was the defensive backs coach with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers from 2001-05. In 2002, Tomlin guided one of the most productive defensive backfields in the NFL, culminating with its performance in Super Bowl XXXVII. The secondary recorded four of the team's five interceptions, returning two for touchdowns, to help Tampa Bay capture the franchise's first Super Bowl title.

Before joining Tampa Bay's staff, Tomlin served two seasons as the defensive backs coach at the University of Cincinnati (1999-00). He took over a secondary that ranked 111th in the nation in pass defense in 1998 and helped them improve to 61st overall in his first season. Under Tomlin's direction in 2000, the Bearcats ranked eighth in the nation in interceptions as well as fourth nationally in total turnovers.

Prior to joining the Cincinnati staff, Tomlin had a short stint on the coaching staff at Tennessee-Martin and then spent two seasons at Arkansas State, coaching wide receivers in 1997 before switching to defensive backs in 1998.

Tomlin spent the 1996 season as a graduate assistant at the University of Memphis, where he worked with the Tiger defensive backs and special teams units. He began his coaching career in 1995 as wide receivers coach at Virginia Military Institute.

Tomlin was a three-year starter at wide receiver at William & Mary (1990-94) and finished his career with 101 receptions for 2,054 yards and 20 TD catches. A first-team All-Yankee Conference selection in 1994, he established a school record with a 20.2 yards-per-catch average.

Tomlin is very active in the community and was recognized, along with his wife Kiya, in February 2013, by the Chuck Cooper Foundation with the Career Achievement in Leadership Diversity and Community Service Award. Tomlin also participates in the annual ManUp Pittsburgh conference which encourages local men to be better fathers and role models.

PITTSBURGH STEELERS

ASSISTANT COACHES

John Mitchell, the longest-tenured current member of the Steelers' coaching staff, is in his 27th season with the franchise, having served as the team's defensive line coach (1994-2016), and assistant head coach/defensive line (2007-17). He remained with the team following Mike Tomlin's hiring in January 2007, and was promoted to assistant head coach.

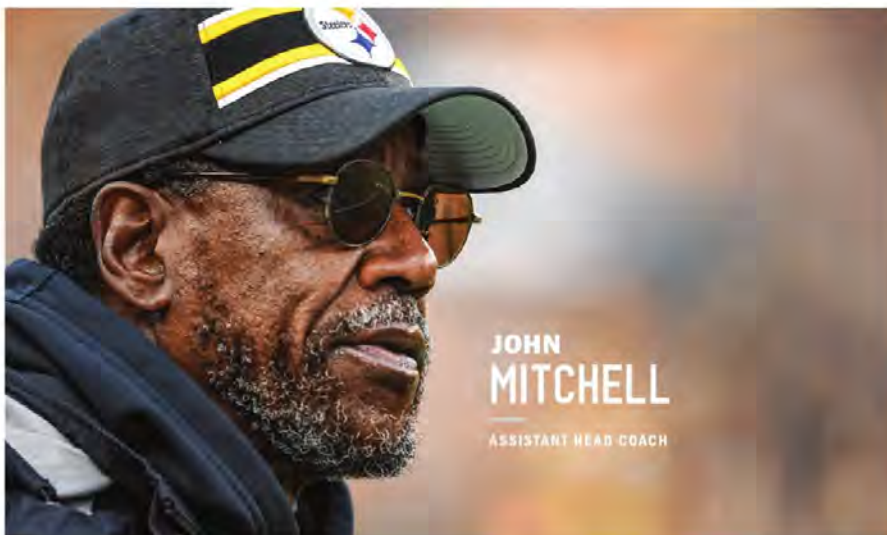

As assistant head coach, Mitchell oversees staff development among the coaching staff, works with current and former players in career development, and assists Head Coach Mike Tomlin in community related events.

Mitchell joined the Steelers' coaching staff on Jan. 31, 1994, and holds 48 seasons of coaching, including 15 years at the college level and two in the United States Football League.

Since his arrival in 1994, the Steelers' defensive front has helped the team lead the NFL in rush defense five times and finish in the top-10 in the League 18 times.

Mitchell joined the NFL ranks in 1991 as defensive line coach with the Browns, where he tutored two Pro Bowl defensive tackles, Michael Dean Perry and Rob Burnett.

His early years in coaching were spent under two of college football's greatest coaches as defensive line coach under Paul "Bear" Bryant at Alabama (1973-76) and under Lou Holtz at Arkansas (1977-82).

A starter at defensive end for Alabama, Mitchell was the first African American to play for the University of Alabama along with teammate Wilbur Jackson. He started all 24 games in his two seasons, when the team compiled a 21-3 record, won two Southeastern Conference championships, and earned All-SEC honors twice and All-American honors in his final season. He earned a bachelor's degree in social work in 1972, and in 2009 was elected into the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame.

Born in Mobile, Ala., Mitchell and his wife, Joyce, live in Pittsburgh.

KEITH BUTLER

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Keith Butler is in his sixth season as the team's defensive coordinator. Butler served as the Steelers' linebackers coach for 12 seasons (2003-2014) after spending four seasons as the Cleveland Browns' linebackers coach.

In 2019, Butler's Steelers defense ranked as one of the NFL's best. Pittsburgh led or tied for the League-lead in sacks, quarterback hits, takeaways, fumble recoveries, rush TDs allowed and pass yards allowed. The Steelers also ranked among the NFL's top-five in interceptions, interception rate pass defense, yards per play allowed, passes defended, yards per rush allowed, forced fumbles, tackles for loss, opposing passer rating, pass yards per attempt allowed, total defense, scoring defense and offensive TDs allowed.

Pittsburgh was the only NFL team with three different players recording at least 9.0 sacks in 2019 (T.J. Watt-14.5, Bud Dupree-11.5, Cam Heyward-9.0). The Steelers have registered at least one sack in 57 consecutive games, the longest regular-season streak in team history, the longest active streak in the NFL and sixth-longest in League history.

In 2018, for the second consecutive year, Pittsburgh led the NFL for the most sacks with 52, tying Kansas City. Five Steelers tallied at least 5.0 sacks, led by second-year linebacker T.J. Watt's 13.0. Defensive tackle Cameron Heyward earned his first Pro Bowl selection, recording 8.0 sacks.

Butler spent nine years coaching collegiately, beginning at his alma mater, Memphis, coaching linebackers (1990-97), and defensive ends and special teams (1995-97). He was defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Arkansas State in 1998.

He was drafted by Seattle in the second round in 1978 and played linebacker for the Seahawks for 10 seasons (1978-87).

A three-year starter at inside linebacker for Memphis, Butler finished his collegiate career with 384 tackles and seven interceptions.

Butler was born in Anniston, Ala. He and his wife Janet have three sons — Blake, Brandon and Brett.

RANDY FICHTNER

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

+ Randy Fichtner is in his third season as the Steelers' offensive coordinator, after eight seasons as quarterbacks coach and three prior coaching wide receivers.

Fichtner's offense was beset with injuries in 2019, including QB Ben Roethlisberger. Mason Rudolph, who replaced him, was the third quarterback since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger to record a passer rating of at least 81.4 and throw a TD in each of his first 6 career starts. He also was the fifth QB since then to throw a TD in each of his first eight career games. After Rudolph was injured, Fichtner helped Devlin Hodges become the first undrafted rookie QB in a non-strike year to win three starts in the same season since 1966.

In his first year as coordinator (2018), Pittsburgh led the NFL in red zone touchdown efficiency and net passing yards per game. Five of the team's six Pro Bowl selections were offensive players. Roethlisberger set single-season franchise records for touchdown passes, completions and passing yards, leading the NFL in completions and yards. Team MVP WR JuJu Smith-Schuster set single-season career highs for receptions and receiving yards, leading Pittsburgh in both. Running back James Conner became the first player in franchise history with at least 1,000 yards from scrimmage and 10 touchdowns in the first eight games of a season, finishing with 1,470 total yards (973 rushing) and 13 touchdowns.

Fichtner became offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Memphis in 2001, having previously coached receivers and quarterbacks (1990-94). He spent four years at Arkansas State, and three at his alma mater, Purdue University.

A standout football player at Meadville (Pa.) Area Senior High School, Fichtner played defensive back at Purdue, graduating in 1985 with a bachelor's degree in health promotion.

He and his wife Jennifer have three children — son Nathaniel Ross, and daughters Shelby Brooke and Kirby Lynn.

DANNY SMITH

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

+ Danny Smith is in his eighth season as the Steelers' special teams coordinator.

Kicker Chris Boswell made 29 of 31 field goal attempts in 2019, including 29 of 30 from inside 54 yards and 10 of 12 from 40+ yards. He tied for third in the NFL in field goals made and tied for fourth in field goals attempted and points (115). Among NFL kickers with at least 30 attempts, Boswell ranked second in field goal percentage. He was the only kicker in 2019 to not miss an extra-point attempt (28 of 28) and connected on at least 90% of his field goal attempts, the first NFL kicker to do so since 2017 and fifth since 2015, when the extra-point attempt moved to the 15-yard line.

Wide receiver/punt returner Diontae Johnson led the NFL in punt-return average (12.4) in 2019, the fifth player in franchise history to lead the League and first since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger. He returned a punt 85 yards for a TD at Arizona (12/8), the longest punt return for a TD in franchise history and first for the Steelers since 2015. Johnson was the first Pittsburgh rookie with a punt return for a TD since 2006.

Boswell landed 13 successful field goals in 2018, following a 2017 season where he earned his first Pro Bowl selection and established single-season franchise records for most field goals made and total points, in addition to setting a team record for most field goals made from 50 yards or further in a season. He also converted four game-winning field goal attempts in 2017.

Born and raised in Pittsburgh, Smith attended Central Catholic High School. He coached at Central Catholic (1977-78), helping tutor future Pro Football Hall of Fame quarterback Dan Marino.

Smith and his wife Elaine have three children — Erin, Courtney and Jason.

TERYL AUSTIN

SENIOR DEFENSIVE
ASSISTANT/SECONDARY COACH

+ Teryl Austin is in his second season as the Steelers' senior defensive assistant/secondary and 17th year in the National Football League coaching ranks. He was hired on January 11, 2019. Austin coached a group of defensive backs that helped the Steelers' defense rank as one of the NFL's best in 2019. Pittsburgh limited 11 opponents below 200 yards passing, which led the League. The Steelers ranked top-five in the NFL in interceptions (2nd, 20), interception rate (2nd, 3.89%), pass defense (3rd, 194.6), yards per play allowed (3rd, 4.72), passes defended (3rd, 99), opposing passer rating (4th, 79.7), pass yards per attempt allowed (4th, 6.06), total defense (5th, 304.1) and scoring defense (5th, 18.9).

Safety Minkah Fitzpatrick, who was named All-Pro, had 5 interceptions, 2 forced fumble and 3 fumble recoveries in 2019. His 8 total takeaways (interceptions and fumble recoveries) led the NFL. Fitzpatrick's 9 combined interceptions (5), forced fumbles (1) and fumble recoveries (3) ranked third in the NFL.

He recorded defensive TDs in back-to-back games, including a 96-yard interception return for a TD against the Colts (Nov. 3) and a 43-yard fumble return for TD against the Rams (Nov. 10). Fitzpatrick ranked tied for fourth in the NFL with 5 interceptions.

Austin brought 15 years of NFL coaching experience to the Steelers, having previously served as the defensive coordinator of the Cincinnati Bengals (2018) and the Detroit Lions (2014-17).

Austin, a native of Sharon, Pa., attended Sharon (Pa.) High School. He and his wife, April, have five children, including sons Tyler, Trey and Torin, and daughters Alexa and Alivia.

TOM
DEFENSIVE BACKS COACH

+ Tom Bradley is in his third season as the Steelers' defensive backs coach and his third year in the National Football League coaching ranks. He was hired on February 8, 2018.

Bradley coached a group of defensive backs that helped the Steelers' defense rank as one of the NFL's best in 2019. Pittsburgh limited 11 opponents below 200 yards passing, which led the League. The Steelers ranked top-five in the NFL in interceptions (2nd, 20), interception rate (2nd, 3.89%), pass defense (3rd, 194.6), yards per play allowed (3rd, 4.72), passes defended (3rd, 99), opposing passer rating (4th, 79.7), pass yards per attempt allowed (4th, 6.06), total defense (5th, 304.1) and scoring defense (5th, 18.9).

Under Bradley, cornerback Joe Haden recorded 65 tackles, 17 passes defended, 5 interceptions, 3 tackles for loss, 1 forced fumble and 1 fumble recovery in 2019. He either led the Steelers or tied for the team lead in passes defended (17) and interceptions (5, tied). Haden ranked tied for fourth in the NFL in passes defended, interceptions and total takeaways (5 interceptions, 1 fumble recovery).

Bradley is a graduate of Bishop McCort (Johnstown, Pa.) High School and is an inductee in the Cambria County Sports Hall of Fame for his accomplishments in football, basketball and track and field as a prep student-athlete. He was inducted into the Western Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame in May of 2014. Bradley was honorary chair of the 2006 Pennsylvania Special Olympics State Summer Games. He was inducted into the Pittsburgh Hall of Fame in 2015, and is one of four football coaches to receive the honor. From 2012-13, Bradley spent two years as a football color analyst at CBS and ESPN.

MATT CANADA

QUARTERBACKS COACH

+ Matt Canada is in his first season as the Steelers' quarterbacks coach. He was hired on January 15, 2020.

Canada, who was a finalist for the Broyles Award — honor given to college football's top assistant coach — in 2016, brings nearly two decades of experience as both a highly successful quarterbacks coach and offensive coordinator.

His units set offensive school records at Indiana, Northern Illinois, Wisconsin and Pittsburgh, and most recently as the interim head coach at the University of Maryland in 2018.

Canada served as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at LSU in 2017. Tigers quarterback Danny Etling threw 16 TDs and only 2 interceptions, while LSU finished the season No. 1 nationally in fewest turnovers. The Tigers won six of seven SEC games down the stretch, earning a trip to the Citrus Bowl.

In Canada's one season with the Panthers (2016), Pitt averaged a school-record 42 points per game, which ranked No. 10 in the nation. The Panthers led the nation in red-zone TD percentage (82%) and scored at least 28 points in all 12 regular-season games, including a 43-42 victory at eventual national champion Clemson. Pitt allowed just 9 sacks in the regular season, which was the fewest of any Power 5 program. Running back James Conner rushed for over 1,000 yards, scored 16 TDs, and earned first-team All-ACC honors. The Panthers finished the regular season 8-4 and earned a trip to the Pinstripe Bowl.

Canada earned his B.A. in Business (1993) and M.A. in Sports Administration (1995) at Indiana University.

Canada is from New Palestine, Ind. He is married to the former Erin Buchanan and the couple has one daughter, Tori, and a son, Chris.

JAMES DANIEL

TIGHT ENDS COACH

+ James Daniel is in his 17th season coaching tight ends for the Steelers. Daniel, who was hired on January 24, 2004, remained with the team following Mike Tomlin's hiring in January of 2007.

Vance McDonald (50), Jesse James (30) and Xavier Grimble (6) combined for 86 receptions during the 2018 season under Daniel's tutelage. McDonald became the first Steelers tight end to haul in 50 catches in a season since 2015 (Heath Miller) and eclipse 600 receiving yards since 2014 (Miller). In the team's Week 2 Monday Night win at Tampa Bay, McDonald established a single-game career high of 112 receiving yards on 4 catches — marking the first 100-receiving yard game of his NFL career and becoming the second Steelers tight end since 1960 to have at least 100 receiving yards in the first half of a game (Eric Green, 1991).

Under Daniel's guidance, Heath Miller became one of the top pass catchers in franchise history. Miller, who retired on February 19, 2016, left the Steelers as the team's all-time leader in receptions (592), receiving yards (6,569) and receiving TDs (45) by a tight end.

Overall, Miller ranks third in career receptions, fourth in receiving yards, fifth in receiving TDs and sixth in scrimmage yards (6,577) in Steelers annals. Miller is one of 15 tight ends in NFL history to reach 6,000 career receiving yards during the regular season.

A native of Wetumpka, Ala., Daniel was a three-year starter (offensive guard) and four-year letter winner at Alabama State University from 1970-73. Daniel is married to Myrtis.

Karl Dunbar is in his third season as the Steelers' defensive line coach and his 14th year as a defensive line coach in the National Football League. He was hired by the Steelers on February 8, 2018.

In 2019, Dunbar mentored defensive tackle Cameron Heyward, who was named All-Pro for the second time in his career (2017). Heyward finished the season with 9.0 sacks, 22 quarterback hits, 11 tackles for a loss and 6 passes defended. Heyward not only led all NFL defensive tackles in stops with 83, but he also led the League in tackles by a defensive lineman. In fact, his 83 tackles were the most by a Steelers defensive lineman since Donald Evans had 84 in 1993.

Among NFL defensive tackles in '19, Heyward ranked second in quarterback hits, second in sacks and fourth in tackles for loss.

Another Dunbar protege, nose tackle Javon Hargrave, recorded 60 tackles, 7 tackles for loss, 6 quarterback hits, 4.0 sacks and 1 forced fumble in 2019. Hargrave's 60 tackles were the most among all nose tackles in the NFL and ninth-most among defensive tackles. Among all NFL nose tackles in '19, Hargrave ranked tied for second in sacks, quarterback hits and tackles for loss.

Dunbar and his wife, Pamela, have three children: Karmichael Mackenzie II, Mickel Angelle and Nickolette Alyse. A native of Opelousas, La., Dunbar graduated from Louisiana State University with a bachelor's degree in criminal justice.

Ike Hilliard is in his first season as the Steelers' wide receivers coach in 2020 and 10th year as a wide receivers coach in the National Football League. Hilliard was hired by Pittsburgh on February 18, 2020.

Hilliard served as the wide receivers coach in Washington for seven seasons over two different stints (2012), including the last six years. He has also served as the wide receivers coach in Buffalo (2013) and assistant wide receivers coach in Miami (2011).

Under Hilliard's tutelage in 2019, wideout Terry McLaurin had one of the top rookie receiving seasons in Washington Football Team history. He led Washington in all three major receiving categories. McLaurin registered 58 catches for 919 yards and 7 TD receptions in 14 games. His 919 receiving yards and 7 TDs ranked second in franchise rookie history. Among all NFL rookies, McLaurin ranked second in receiving yards, tied for second in receptions and tied for third in TD receptions. He also ranked second in yards per catch (15.8) among rookies with at least 20 receptions.

As a player, Hilliard was a first-round selection in the 1997 NFL Draft (No. 7 overall). He played 12 seasons, eight with the New York Giants (1997-2004) and four with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2005-08). In 161 career games (106 starts), Hilliard caught 546 passes for 6,397 yards and 35 TDs.

Hilliard played collegiately at the University of Florida from 1994-96, catching 126 passes for 2,214 yards and 26 TDs. He earned first-team All-SEC and All-American honors as a junior. In the final game that season, he recorded 7 catches for 150 yards and 3 TDs to help lead the Gators to a 52-20 Sugar Bowl win to secure the school's first national championship.

Hilliard is a native of Patterson, La.

Eddie Faulkner is in his second season as the running backs coach for the Steelers, after being hired on January 17, 2019.

Prior to joining the Steelers, Faulkner spent six years, 2013-18, at North Carolina State University as the school's tight ends/fullbacks/special teams coordinator. In 2017, Faulkner was selected to participate in the NCAA Champion Forum as one of eight minority coaches in the nation chosen to participate in the professional development opportunity.

While at N.C. State, Faulkner coached the program's all-time receptions leader and current Steelers running back Jaylen Samuels, who finished his career with 202 catches while earning first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors in 2015 and in 2017. In 2017, Samuels finished third in the conference with 16 TDs — the third-most in a season by a N.C. State footballer. Wolf-pack running back Reggie Gallaspy II tied for fifth in the nation with 19 total TDs in 2018, scoring 18 on the ground.

A native of Muncie, Ind., Faulkner attended Muncie Central High School. He earned a B.A. in history from Wisconsin in 2000, and a M.A. in adult, higher and community education from Ball State in 2004. He and his wife, Anissa, have three children: Eddie IV, Madison Rose and Xavier.

+ Adrian Klemm is in his second season as the assistant offensive line coach for the Steelers, after being hired on February 15, 2019.

Two Steelers offensive linemen — David DeCastro and Maurkice Pouncey — were selected to the 2020 Pro Bowl, an honor each received for the third consecutive year. Klemm, a three-time Super Bowl champion during his NFL playing career, joined the Steelers after nine seasons in the collegiate ranks.

Most recently, Klemm was the Associate Head Coach/Run Game Coordinator/Offensive Line at UCLA from 2012-16.

Klemm was a four-year starter at the University of Hawaii (1996-99) and a part of the biggest turnaround in NCAA history. Hawaii improved from 0-12 to 9-4 to win a bowl game during the 1999 season. Following his senior year, Klemm was selected as the starting left tackle in the Senior Bowl and received invitations to the East-West Shrine Game and the Hula Bowl. He earned a bachelor's degree in liberal arts from Excelsior College in 2008.

Klemm was selected by the New England Patriots in the second-round of the 2000 NFL Draft, where he spent the first five of his seven NFL seasons.

He was a member of three Patriots Super Bowl Championship teams (XXXVI, XXXVII and XXXIX) before joining the Green Bay Packers in 2005.

A native of Los Angeles, Calif., Klemm has two sons, Jalen and Nikko.

+ Shaun Sarrett was promoted to offensive line coach on January 14, 2019, after serving the 2018 season as the Steelers' assistant offensive line coach. Sarrett joined the Steelers in 2012 and spent six years as an offensive assistant, primarily helping coach the offensive line, and assisting the offensive coaching staff with game preparation, video analysis and the scouting of opponents.

Two Steelers offensive linemen — David DeCastro and Maurkice Pouncey — were selected to the 2020 Pro Bowl, an honor each received for the third consecutive year.

In 2018, the Steelers' offensive line allowed just 24.0 sacks — the fourth-fewest allowed by an NFL team on the season — and the third consecutive year the Pittsburgh offensive line finished top five in the category. The Steelers yielded 21.0 sacks in 2016 (2nd) and 24.0 in 2017 (3rd). Only one other team has allowed fewer than the Steelers' 69.0 sacks over the three-year span.

Since 2014, Pittsburgh yielded 167.0 sacks, which is the third-fewest sacks allowed among all NFL teams.

Sarrett spent four seasons as the offensive quality control and offensive line assistant coach for Duke University. During the 2011 season, Sarrett assumed Ron Middleton's tight end coaching responsibilities when an injury sidelined him. He joined the Duke staff after spending two years as a graduate assistant at Marshall University, where he earned a master's degree in special education. Prior to his stint at Marshall, he served as an offensive and defensive line coach at Streetsboro High School (Streetsboro, Ohio).

A native of Beckley, W.Va., Sarrett played guard for Kent State University and was a three-year letterman. He received the Dick Scesniak Award for overcoming adversity during the 2003 season, and he earned his degree in health education in 2004. Sarrett is married to the former Amy Luempert of Lorain, Ohio.

+ Jerry Olsavsky is in his sixth season as the team's inside linebackers coach. Olsavsky was promoted to his current position on February 6, 2015.

Olsavsky oversaw the development of rookie Devin Bush in 2019. Bush set a franchise rookie record with 109 tackles, which is the most by a Steeler in a season since Lawrence Timmons had 114 in 2016. Bush was the only NFL rookie with a fumble recovery (4), interception (2), forced fumble (1) and 100 or more tackles (109).

Bush was the first NFL rookie with at least 100 tackles, 4 fumble recoveries, 2 interceptions, 1 forced fumble and 1.0 sack in the same season since Bennie Blades of the Detroit Lions in 1988. He also was the first NFL rookie since the 1970 NFL-AFL merger with at least 85 tackles, 4 fumble recoveries, 2 interceptions and 1 TD fumble return in a season. Bush was chosen by the Pittsburgh Chapter of the Pro Football Writers Association as the winner of the Joe Greene Great Performance Award, given annually to the top Steelers rookie.

Olsavsky was selected by the Steelers in the 10th round (258th overall) of the 1989 NFL Draft, and played linebacker from 1989-97. He saw action in 108 games for the Steelers, making 227 tackles, while also excelling on special teams. Olsavsky battled back from a career threatening knee injury in 1993 and helped lead the Steelers to a berth in Super Bowl XXX. In 1995, he was the recipient of the Steelers' Ed Block Courage Award, given annually to the Steeler that overcomes many obstacles to achieve great success on the field. Olsavsky finished his playing career in 1998 with the Baltimore Ravens.

Playing collegiately at the University of Pittsburgh, Olsavsky was a first-team Kodak All-American as a senior in 1988, when he made 129 tackles. He became the Panthers' first defensive player since 1976 to record more than 100 tackles in three consecutive seasons. He earned his degree in information science in 1990.

Olsavsky was born in Youngstown, Ohio, and he resides in Pittsburgh with his three children, Joseph, Emma and Dominic.

DENZEL MARTIN

ASSISTANT OUTSIDE
LINEBACKERS COACH

+ Denzel Martin is in his third season as one of the team's coaching assistants, after previously serving as the Steelers' scouting assistant from 2016-17. Martin assists in the daily operations for defense and will work with the team's defensive line and linebackers, having previously assisted with the unit's middle linebackers. His responsibilities include game preparation, video analysis and scouting of opponents.

Prior to joining the Steelers in 2016, Martin spent a year as a recruiting graduate assistant at the University of Missouri in 2015, where he played linebacker from 2010-14. Martin, a native of St. Louis, Mo., received a degree in multidisciplinary studies in 2014 and a master's in education with an emphasis in positive coaching from Missouri in 2015.

MATTHEW SYMMES

COACHING ASSISTANT

+ Matthew Symmes is in his third season as one of the team's coaching assistants, working with the quarterbacks. Symmes assists in the daily operations for the offense. His responsibilities include game preparation, video analysis and scouting of opponents.

Symmes joined the Steelers in 2018 after spending the previous two years as a football graduate assistant, offense, at the University of South Carolina. Prior to South Carolina, Symmes held the same role at Indiana University (2015), the University of Florida (2014) and Duke University (2013).

A native of Houston, Texas, Symmes graduated from Duke in 2013 with a degree in history. Symmes and his wife, Anna, reside in Pittsburgh.

BLAINE STEWART

ASSISTANT WIDE
RECEIVERS COACH

+ Blaine Stewart is in his third season as one of the team's coaching assistants. Stewart assists in the daily operations for the offense and special teams units. His responsibilities include game preparation, video analysis and scouting of opponents.

A native of Morgantown, W.Va., Stewart played wide receiver at the University of Charleston (W.Va.) in 2016 and 2017, after beginning his collegiate playing career at James Madison University (2013-15). He received a bachelor's in sport and recreation management from James Madison in 2016, before completing a master's in business administration from Charleston in 2017.

He is the son of late West Virginia head coach, Bill Stewart.

GARRETT GIEMONT

CONDITIONING COORDINATOR

+ Garrett Giemont is in his 14th season as conditioning coordinator for the Steelers after being hired on January 31, 2007.

Giemont was honored with the NFL's 2015 Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year award by Samson Equipment, which was presented by American Football Monthly at the end of the 2014 season.

Giemont also received the 2008 Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year/Super Bowl Achievement Award from the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society.

He has 30+ years of experience in the NFL, and served as the Tampa Bay Buccaneers' strength and conditioning coordinator (2003-05) prior to joining the Steelers.

Giemont was named Coach of the Year by The Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society after the 2002 season while working for the Oakland Raiders under head coach Bill Callahan. He spent eight seasons as a member of the Raiders' staff, including the first seven as strength and conditioning coach and the final season as strength and conditioning coordinator.

Prior to joining the Raiders, Giemont spent three seasons in Major League Baseball as the Director of Physical Development for the Chicago Cubs (1992-94). He originally entered the NFL with the Los Angeles Rams in 1970 as a part-time training assistant and served as the Rams' assistant trainer from 1978-82. From 1983-89, he was the Rams' strength and conditioning trainer and worked as the team's strength and conditioning coach from 1990-91.

Giemont and his wife, Sonya, have two sons, Jackson and Jett.

+ Terry Cousin is in his sixth season with Pittsburgh as the team's Player Engagement Coordinator.

Cousin works in the area of player development, assisting rookie players with The Steelers University life skills program that assists with on and off the field, career development with players seeking to advance their interest off the field, and helping players transition to life after football.

Prior to joining the Steelers, Cousin served as the Chicago Bears' Director of Player Engagement (2014), the Director of Player Engagement for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2012-13) and the Director of Player Development for his alma mater, the University of South Carolina (2010-11).

While working for the Buccaneers, Cousin created a program called Buccaneer University, which helped players with education, internships, benefits and financial services. He was also the main contact between the Buccaneers' players and community relations department, assisting with player involvement in the community. Cousin also helped relocate players when they came to Tampa and aided Buccaneers rookies with their transition into the NFL.

During his two years at South Carolina, Cousin worked with student athletes across multiple sports. He also served as a sideline reporter for the Gamecocks' radio broadcasts and did features on student athletes for Steve Spurrier's television show. Cousin was a four-year letterman for the South Carolina football team (1993-96), and he also ran track. He was the 1993 Scott Sinclair Freshman Award winner.

A former NFL cornerback, Cousin enjoyed a 12-year career, playing for the Bears, Atlanta Falcons, Miami Dolphins, Carolina Panthers, New York Giants, Jacksonville Jaguars and Cleveland Browns. He originally signed with the Bears in 1997 as an undrafted rookie free agent out of South Carolina.

MARCEL PASTOOR

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING ASSISTANT COACH

Marcel Pastoor is in his 17th season as the Steelers' strength and conditioning assistant coach and his 20th overall season with the team.

Pastoor assists conditioning coordinator Garrett Giemont with the strength and conditioning program.

Pastoor received his undergraduate degree from Virginia Tech in exercise physiology and kinesiology in 2000. He completed his masters from the University of Pittsburgh in exercise physiology, graduating with honors in 2003.

Prior to joining the Steelers, Pastoor interned with the Washington Football Team in 1998 and was the volunteer assistant strength coach for Radford University from 1999-2001.

Pastoor and his wife Cayce have a daughter, Catelyn Ann, and a son, Carter Matthew.

ART ROONEY

SPORTSMANSHIP AWARD

Arthur Joseph Rooney Sr.

"The Chief" 1901-1988

One of the great pioneers of the sports world, Art Rooney, Sr. was born on January 27, 1901, in Coulterville, Pa., the oldest of nine children. "The Chief," as he was affectionately known, is enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame and is remembered as one of Pittsburgh's greatest people.

He grew up in Old Allegheny, now known as Pittsburgh's North Side, and lived on the North Side his whole life, just a short distance from where Three Rivers Stadium stood.

An exceptional all-around athlete, he held AAU Boxing middleweight and welterweight titles and was named to the U.S. Olympic Boxing Team in 1920, though he did not participate in the Olympic Games. He also played minor league baseball and semi-pro football.

He founded the Pittsburgh Steelers on July 8, 1933, after running successful semi-professional football clubs.

"The Chief" was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1964 for his contributions to the growth of the NFL and the Steelers. His dedication to pro football was crucial to the NFL during the depression years.

He was instrumental in the transformation of the Steelers as the team won its first four Super Bowl Championships in six years. After the first championship, Super Bowl IX, the team gathered around and presented "The Chief" with the game ball.

JOE GREENE

GREAT PERFORMANCE AWARD

The Joe Greene Great Performance Award, presented by PNC Bank, was established in 1984 in honor of Steelers Hall of Fame defensive tackle Joe Greene.

Greene was Head Coach Chuck Noll's first draft pick in 1969 and helped lead the Steelers to four Super Bowl Championships in the 1970s.

The award is presented annually to the Steelers' top rookie, as selected by the Pittsburgh chapter of the Pro Football Writers Association. Linebacker Devin Bush, the Steelers' first-round (10th overall) draft selection in 2019, won the award last season. Bush, who started 15 of 16 games played in 2019, led the team and all NFL rookies in tackles (109), solo tackles (72) and ranked fourth in TFLs (9). He is the only Steelers rookie ever to eclipse 100 tackles, the first NFL rookie with a fumble return for a TD and an interception in the same game (@ LAC) since 2017, and the 11th since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger.

Bush also became the first Steelers rookie, and just the second NFL rookie since the 1970 NFL-AFL merger, with a fumble return for a TD and an interception in the same game (Delton Hall accomplished the feat in 1987).

PITTSBURGH STEELERS CAPTAINS

Ben Roethlisberger QB

Jordan Dangerfield S

Maurkice Pouncey C

T.J. Watt LB

Cameron Heyward DT

The Steelers selected five players to serve as team captains for the 2020 season, the team announced through a vote of their teammates.

Quarterback Ben Roethlisberger and center Maurkice Pouncey will serve as the offensive captains. Defensive tackle Cameron Heyward and linebacker T.J. Watt will function as the defensive captains, and safety Jordan Dangerfield will act as the special teams captain.

Roethlisberger's selection marks the 12th in his career as a team captain (2008, '09, '11, '12, '13, '14, '15, '16, '17, '18, '19 and '20). Heyward has been named a captain for six consecutive years (2015-20), and this is the fourth time that Pouncey has been named a captain (2013, '18, '19 and '20). This signifies the first time that Watt and Dangerfield have been selected as a team captain in their respective careers.

The following are the Steelers' team captains who have been selected during head coach Mike Tomlin's tenure (since 2007):

HEAD COACH

DOUG PEDERSON

PRO CAREER: Doug Pederson was named head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles on January 18, 2016, after having served as the Kansas City Chiefs' offensive coordinator (2013-15). Since taking over as head coach, he has led the Eagles to a 42-28 record, which marks the highest winning percentage (.600) by a head coach in franchise history. In just his second season as an NFL head coach in 2017, Pederson led the Eagles to the first Super Bowl title in franchise history, a 41-33 victory over the New England Patriots in Super Bowl LII. Altogether, Pederson has engineered two NFC East titles, three playoff appearances and four postseason victories in his first four seasons as head coach. Pederson, who enjoyed a 12-year NFL playing career, began his pro coaching career in Philadelphia where he served under Andy Reid as an offensive quality control (2009-10) and quarterbacks coach (2011-12). Career record: 39-28-1.

BACKGROUND: Was a three-year starter at quarterback for Northeast Louisiana, where he graduated with a B.B.A. in business management. A 12-year NFL veteran, played quarterback for the Green Bay Packers, Miami Dolphins, Eagles and Cleveland Browns. Was backup quarterback for the Packers when team won Super Bowl XXXI. Began coaching as head coach at Calvary Baptist Academy (Shreveport, La.).

PERSONAL: Born January 31, 1968 in Bellingham, Wash. He and his wife, Jeannie, have three sons: Drew, Josh and Joel.

IN THE COMMUNITY

The Pittsburgh Steelers are proud to be a part of the Western Pennsylvania community.

The organization's strong commitment to this area dates back to 1933 when Arthur J. Rooney, Sr. founded the team. That commitment was passed down to his son, late Steelers' Chairman, Ambassador Dan Rooney, and his grandson, President Art Rooney II. Steelers players, coaches and front office staff are involved in appearances, charitable donations and outreach programs with nonprofit and community groups. It's the team's way of giving back to the community that has given us so much!

Vince Williams Giving Back In A BIG Way

Vince Williams teamed with The Education Partnership, a local nonprofit, to provide over 1,000 students in the Pittsburgh area with new and refurbished laptops and basic school supplies. With so many students learning remotely from home because of the COVID-19 pandemic, the need for electronic devices has soared and Williams is tackling it head on, trying to eliminate the strong divide that exists for those who don't have the basic needs.

Even before the pandemic hit as many as one third of students in Southwestern Pennsylvania didn't have the necessary school supplies. Add to that the fact that students aren't able to share supplies for in-person learning, and the need is even stronger. In the next few weeks, Vince will have a virtual assembly with the students to help them stay encouraged during this difficult time.

▲ Steelers linebacker Vince Williams teamed with The Education Partnership to provide Pittsburgh students with school supplies.

▲ As part of the Amachi Ambassadors Youth Leadership Development program, Steelers tight end Eric Ebron talks with local teens.

Eric Ebron Spending Time with Local Teens

Last week, Eric Ebron spent over an hour talking with local teens who are a part of the Amachi Ambassadors Youth Leadership Development program in Pittsburgh. Amachi Ambassadors empowers children of promise to raise awareness and education about the impact of parental incarceration on children, families and communities. The ambassadors strive to improve services and shift policies that affect their lives. The teens weren't shy about opening up to Ebron, and equally Ebron wasn't shy about opening up to them and put his feelings and emotions out there. It was an honest conversation, and nothing was off limits.

The Pittsburgh Steelers Hall of Honor, established with its inaugural class of 27 members in 2017, is comprised of former players, coaches, and front office personnel who were integral in creating and sustaining the franchise's success dating back to when the team was founded in 1933.

Each Hall of Honor inductee receives a replica of a solid steel football, which replicates the original that was given to Steelers' founder Art Rooney Sr. by the United States Steel Corporation and United Steel Workers in 1982 on the occasion of the team's 50th Season. They will be part of a display to be located inside the FedEx Great Hall at Heinz Field.

The following are the guidelines for eligibility to be considered for the Steelers' Hall of Honor:

Former Players

- Retired for at least three seasons
- Must have played for the Steelers for a minimum of three seasons
- Should possess noteworthy career highlights, records, and achievements

Former Coaches and Contributors

- Significant contributions to the team and community

CLASS OF 2020

The Steelers' Hall of Honor Class of 2020 was announced on team media channels on Sept. 25. This year's class includes James Farrior, Greg Lloyd, Troy Polamalu, Mike Wagner, and Dwight White.

JAMES FARRIOR

Linebacker (2002-11)

Class of 2020

James Farrior joined the Steelers as a free agent in 2002 and went on to record 30 sacks and 1,078 tackles during his 10 seasons with the team. A member of the Super Bowl XL and XLIII championship teams, James was named Steelers Most Valuable Player and First-Team All-Pro in 2004 and was chosen to play in the Pro Bowl in 2004 and 2009. In 16 playoff games, Farrior had 97 tackles, four sacks, two interceptions and eight passes defended.

GREG LLOYD

Class of 2020

Lloyd was drafted by the Steelers in the sixth round in 1987 out of Fort Valley State, one of the Historically Black Colleges and Universities. During his Steelers career, he was twice named the team's Most Valuable Player (1991 & 1994), was voted to five straight Pro Bowls (1991-95), was First-Team All-Pro three straight years (1993-95) and was the UPI AFC Defensive Player of the Year (1994). Lloyd still ranks ninth on the Steelers' all-time sacks list with 53.5 and was a member of the team's 75th Season All-Time Team.

DWIGHT WHITE

Defensive End (1971-80)

Class of 2020

White was also one of only 22 players to win Super Bowls IX, X, XIII and XIV with the Steelers. After spending the week leading up to Super Bowl IX in the hospital with pneumonia, he didn't miss the game, even scoring the Steelers' first points with a safety. Dwight was voted to two Pro Bowls (1972-73) and was a member of the Steelers' 50th and 75th Season All-Time Teams (1982 & 2007). His 46 sacks still rank 10th in team history.

MIKE WAGNER

Safety (1971-80)

Class of 2020

Wagner is one of only 22 players to win four Super Bowls (IX, X, XIII and XIV) during the Steelers' dynasty of the 1970s. He recorded key fourth-quarter interceptions in Super Bowls IX and X to help secure the Steelers' victories. Mike was the NFL co-leader with eight interceptions in 1973 and finished his 10-year career with 36. He was named First-team All-Pro in 1973 and voted to two Pro Bowls (1975-76). Wagner was also a member of the Steelers' 50th Season All-Time Team in 1982.

TROY POLAMALU

Strong Safety (2003-14)

Class of 2020

The Steelers' first-round draft pick in 2003 (16th overall), Polamalu was elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame this year in his first year of eligibility. During his 12-year career with the Steelers, he became a two-time Super Bowl champion (XL and XLIII), was voted to eight Pro Bowls, was named First-team All-Pro four times and was NFL Defensive Player of the Year in 2010. In addition, Troy was a member of the Steelers' 75th Season All-Time Team and the NFL's 2000s All-Decade Team.

STEELERS HISTORY

Celebrating 20 seasons at Heinz Field

The fifth-oldest franchise in the NFL, the Pittsburgh Steelers were founded on July 8, 1933, by Arthur Joseph Rooney. Originally named the Pittsburgh Pirates, they were a member of the Eastern Division of the 10-team NFL. The other four current NFL teams in existence at that time were the Chicago (Arizona) Cardinals, Green Bay Packers, Chicago Bears and New York Giants.

One of the great pioneers of the sports world, Art Rooney passed away on August 25, 1988, following a stroke at the age of 87. "The Chief," as he was affectionately known, is enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame and is remembered as one of Pittsburgh's greatest people.

Born on January 27, 1901, in Coulterville, Pa., Art Rooney was the oldest of Daniel and Margaret Rooney's nine children. He grew up in Old Allegheny, now known as Pittsburgh's North Side, and until his death he lived on the North Side, just a short distance from where Three Rivers Stadium stood.

Rooney attended St. Peter's Parochial School and Duquesne University Prep School. He studied collegiately at Indiana (Pa.) Normal, which is now Indiana University of Pennsylvania, as well as at Georgetown and Duquesne.

An exceptional all-around athlete, Rooney held middleweight and welterweight titles from the AAU Boxing Championships and was named to the U.S. Olympic Boxing Team in 1920, although he did not participate in the Olympic Games. He played minor league baseball from 1920-25 before a promising career was cut short by an arm injury. Rooney continued playing football for several semi-pro teams in the Pittsburgh area. He was married on June 11, 1931, to Kathleen McNulty, and the couple had five sons — Daniel, Art Jr., Tim, John and Pat. In 1964, Rooney was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame for his contributions to the growth of the NFL and the Pittsburgh Steelers.

By the mid-1960s, Rooney had begun to turn over much of the operation of the Steelers to his oldest son, Dan. After having worked in every area of the organization since 1955, Daniel M. Rooney was named president of the Steelers in 1975. In 2000, Dan Rooney was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. He joined his father Art to form only the second father-son tandem to be inducted into the Hall of Fame. The late New York Giants owners Wellington Mara and his father Tim were the first.

Late Steelers Chairman, Ambassador Dan Rooney, spent 54 consecutive years with the organization before being named U.S. Ambassador to Ireland in 2009 by President Barack Obama. Rooney was required to move to Ireland in 2009 to fulfill his duties as ambassador.

As an NFL owner, Dan Rooney was widely recognized as one of the league's most influential executives and one of Pittsburgh's leading contributors to civic affairs. Among his community activities, he was the co-founder of the American Ireland Fund, and he was a board member of the United Way of America, the American Diabetes Association, the Pittsburgh History and Landmarks Foundation, the Extra mile Foundation and the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center.

Dan Rooney was a member of several NFL committees over 30-plus years. He served on the board of directors for the NFL Trust Fund, NFL Films and the Scheduling Committee. He was appointed chairman of the Expansion Committee in 1973, which considered new franchise locations and directed the addition of Seattle and Tampa Bay as expansion teams in 1976.

In 1976, Rooney was also named chairman of the Negotiating Committee, and in 1982 he contributed to the negotiations for the Collective Bargaining Agreement for the NFL and the Players Association. He again played a key role in the labor agreement reached between NFL owners and players in 1993. Rooney was also largely responsible for developing the realignment plan and scheduling format that the NFL adopted prior to the 2002 season. In October 2002, he was named chairman of the NFL's Diversity in the Workplace Committee. Rooney was also Chairman of the Hall of Fame Committee. In February 1999, he was named the recipient of the Philadelphia Maxwell Football Club's Francis J. "Reds" Bagnell Award for outstanding contributions to the game of football.

Daniel M. Rooney was born on Pittsburgh's North Side on July 20, 1932. He was a 1950 graduate of North Catholic High School, where he played quarterback on the varsity football team. He went on to graduate from Duquesne University in 1955 with a bachelor of arts degree in accounting. Rooney passed away on April 13, 2017 at the age of 84, survived by his wife of 66 years, Patricia, and seven of their nine children, 20 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Dan Rooney was named Steelers Chairman Emeritus in July 2009 after he was named United States Ambassador to Ireland. Rooney served as United States Ambassador until late 2012.

In 2003, Dan Rooney officially turned over the title of Steelers team president to his oldest son, Arthur J. Rooney II, who had previously served as the team's vice president and general counsel. A 1978 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh where he majored in political science, Art II received his law degree from Duquesne University School of Law in 1982. He currently serves as Chairman of the NFL's Stadium Workplace Diversity Committee as well as the Chair of the NFL Compensation Committee. He also serves on additional NFL committees including the Legislative Committee, the Management Council Executive Committee, the International Committee, Health & Safety Advisory Committee, and the NFL Foundation.

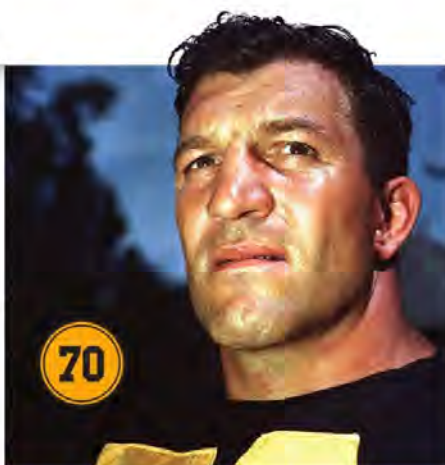

Art Rooney II is also very active in the Pittsburgh community, devoting a substantial amount of his time to various organizations. He currently serves on the boards of the Pittsburgh Public Theater, Saint Vincent College, Senator John Heinz Western Pennsylvania History Center, and the United Way of Southwestern Pennsylvania.

ART ROONEY

1930s After founding the Pirates in 1933, Art Rooney watched his club struggle through its first seven seasons with just 22 wins and five different head coaches. While home games were played at Forbes Field, Rooney often took his team to such cities as Johnstown, Latrobe, Youngstown, New Orleans and Louisville in the 1930s due to competition with baseball and college football.

In 1938, Rooney signed Colorado All-America Byron "Whizzer" White to a $15,800 contract, making White the first "big money" player in the NFL. White led the League in rushing that year and became one of the NFL's most illustrious alumni. He served 31 years as a Justice of the United States Supreme Court before retiring in 1993.

1940s In 1940, Rooney changed the team name to the Pittsburgh Steelers, representing the heritage of Pittsburgh. The first winning record in the organization's history came in 1942 when head coach Walt Kiesling led the Steelers to a 7-4 finish with the league-leading rushing of rookie Bill Dudley. But the next year, Dudley joined the Armed Forces along with many other NFL players as the nation went to war. With rosters depleted, Rooney merged the Steelers with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1943 (Phil-Pitt "Steagles") and with the Chicago Cardinals (Card-Pitt) in 1944.

Rooney hired legendary Pitt coach Jock Sutherland in 1946, and Dudley returned from the war to earn NFL MVP honors, leading the league in rushing, interceptions and punt returns. Today, Dudley is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Sutherland led the 1947 Steelers to an 8-4 record and a share of the Eastern division title, but they lost their first-ever postseason game 21-0 to Philadelphia. Sutherland died suddenly the following spring while on a scouting trip.

STEELERS HISTORY

The Steelers are the fifth-oldest franchise in the NFL. The team was founded on July 8, 1933.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Steelers signed Byron "Whizzer" White to a $15,800 contract, making White the first "big money" player in the NFL.

1950s Succeeding Sutherland, John Michelosen was head coach for the 1948-51 seasons, compiling a 20-26-2 record.

In 1952, Joe Bach returned for his second stint with the Steelers, having coached the team previously in 1935-36. The Steelers became the last team to abandon the single wing for the T-formation in 1952.

Bach resigned for health reasons following the 1954 season and was replaced by assistant coach Walt Kiesling, who had been the Steelers' head coach twice previously. Kiesling's three stints covered the 1939-40, 1941-44 and the 1954-56 campaigns.

1960s Buddy Parker was named head coach in 1957 and over the next eight years he led the Steelers to five non-losing seasons. Hall of Fame quarterback Bobby Layne led the team through three of those campaigns, leading the Steelers to a 9-5 mark and a playoff game versus Detroit in 1962, which the Steelers lost 17-10. Parker completed his tenure with a 51-48-6 record and ranks fourth among all-time Steelers coaches for career wins.

On October 25, 1964, the Steelers made team history when they retired jersey No. 70 in honor of former defensive tackle Ernie Stautner. Stautner, who was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1969, became the first Steelers player to have his jersey retired.

Brief head coaching stints by Mike Nixon in 1965 and Bill Austin from 1966-68 preceded the hiring of 37-year-old Chuck Noll on January 27, 1969. Noll began to rebuild the Steelers through the draft, starting with the defense when he selected defensive tackle Joe Greene with his first choice in 1969. Today, Greene is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, and joined Stautner as the only two players to have their jerseys retired by the team. Greene's No. 75 was officially retired on November 2, 2014.

Buddy Parker ranks fourth all-time among Steelers coaches for career wins.

January 12 – Pittsburgh defeats the Minnesota Vikings 16-6 to capture the team's first Super Bowl victory in Super Bowl IX in New Orleans' Tulane Stadium.

1970s A 1-13 record in 1969 gave the Steelers the first overall choice in the 1970 draft, with which Noll addressed the offense by selecting quarterback Terry Bradshaw, another Hall of Famer, after the Steelers won the first selection by winning a coin toss with the Chicago Bears. Cornerback Mel Blount was added in the third round that year, followed by linebacker Jack Ham in 1971 and running back Franco Harris in 1972. In all, Noll drafted 10 players who are now enshrined in the Hall of Fame including three in his first 20 picks and four of his first 38.

Two significant changes took place in 1970. The Steelers moved from the NFL Century Division to the AFC Central with the merger of the American Football League and the NFL. The Steelers also moved into a new home as Three Rivers Stadium opened. Previously, the Steelers had played home games at Forbes Field from 1933-57 and at both Forbes Field and Pitt Stadium from 1958-63. From 1964-69, the Steelers played at Pitt Stadium until Three Rivers opened in 1970.

Gradual improvement in the early 1970s resulted in the team's first division title in 1972 with an 11-3 record. In the first playoff game at Three Rivers, the Steelers defeated the Oakland Raiders 13-7 with Franco Harris' "Immaculate Reception" in the final minute. Despite a 21-17 loss the following week to the undefeated Miami Dolphins, the Steelers had reached a new plateau.

It took 40 years for the Steelers to finally win their first division title, but over the next decade they achieved a level of success unprecedented in professional football.

In 1973, the Steelers won a wild card playoff berth with a 10-4 record. Oakland avenged its loss from the previous year, however, with a 33-14 defeat of the Steelers in the playoffs.

January 29, 1974 – The Steelers select future Hall of Famers Lynn Swann (first round), Jack Lambert (second), John Stallworth (fourth) and Mike Webster (fifth) in the NFL Draft. Many consider it the best draft in NFL history. Following the draft, the Steelers also signed free agent Donnie Shell, who was elected into the Hall of Fame in 2020.

The Steelers won their first of six consecutive AFC Central titles in 1974 and marched past Buffalo (32-14) and Oakland (24-13) en route to their first Super Bowl appearance in Super Bowl IX. The fierce Pittsburgh defense led the way to a 16-6 victory over the Minnesota Vikings, and Art Rooney was presented the Vince Lombardi Trophy for the first time.

In 1975, the Steelers won 11 straight games to finish 12-2 and claimed their second-consecutive division crown. After defeating Baltimore (28-10) and Oakland (16-10) in the playoffs, the Steelers became the third team in NFL history, joining Green Bay and Miami, to win back-to-back Super Bowls with a 21-17 defeat of the Dallas Cowboys in Super Bowl X.

The 1976 Steelers struggled to a 1-4 start before reeling off nine straight victories, including five shutouts, to win the division with a 10-4 mark. They defeated Baltimore 40-14 in the playoffs, but lost to Oakland 24-7 after both starting running backs, Franco Harris and Rocky Bleier, were injured. The following year, the Steelers dropped a 34-21 decision to Denver in the first round of the playoffs after posting a 9-5 regular-season record.

In 1978, the Steelers made history after a league-best 14-2 regular season and playoff wins versus Denver (33-10) and Houston (34-5). Their 35-31 Super Bowl XIII win versus Dallas made the Steelers the first team to win three Super Bowls.

Yet another standard was set the following year when the 1979 Steelers defeated the Los Angeles Rams 31-19 in Super Bowl XIV to make them the first team in history to win four Super Bowls and the only team to win back-to-back Super Bowls twice. The Super Bowl victory followed a 12-4 regular-season record and playoff wins versus Miami (34-14) and Houston (27-13). With six consecutive AFC Central crowns, eight straight years of playoff appearances and four Super Bowl championships, the Steelers were tagged the "Team of the Decade" for the 1970s.

1980s As the 1980s opened, the Steelers stumbled, failing to make the playoffs in 1980 and 1981 with records of 9-7 and 8-8.

In 1982, the Steelers celebrated the team's 50th anniversary by qualifying for the playoffs with a 6-3 finish in a strike-interrupted season. During the season an anniversary banquet was held to commemorate the team's first 50 seasons and to honor the Steelers' all-time team as selected by fan voting. Thousands of fans were attracted to Pittsburgh for a week of activities and exhibits before the anniversary season was ended by San Diego's 31-28 win in the playoffs. This would be the last playoff game at Three Rivers Stadium until the 1992 season, a span of 10 years.

The 1983 Steelers won their eighth division title with a 10-6 record, but fell in the postseason, 38-10, to the Los Angeles Raiders. The following year the Steelers won their ninth division crown and the team advanced to the AFC Championship game with a 24-17 playoff win at Denver. A 45-28 loss to Miami in the AFC Championship game prevented the Steelers from a fifth Super Bowl appearance.

The Steelers' streak of 13 consecutive non-losing seasons came to an end in 1985 with a 7-9 finish, followed by a 6-10 record in 1986. Playoff hopes remained alive in 1987 until the Steelers lost their last two games to finish 8-7 during the strike-shortened season.

In 1988, the team suffered through its worst campaign in 19 years with a 5-11 record. The next season got off to a similar start with losses of 51-0 and 41-10 in the first two games. But the young team fought back to finish 9-7 and earn a wild card playoff berth on the season's final weekend. An exciting 26-23 overtime playoff win in Houston was followed by a heartbreaking 24-23 divisional playoff loss at Denver in which the Steelers led until the final minutes.

The 1984 Steelers won their ninth division title with a 9-7 record.

STEELERS HISTORY

In 1992, 34-year-old Bill Cowher became the National Football League's youngest head coach at the time. In his first season, the Steelers won the AFC Central division crown for the first time since 1984.

1990s A 9-7 finish in 1990 left the Steelers in a three-way tie for the AFC Central lead, but they were eliminated from playoff contention by a 2-4 division record. The 1991 team finished second in the division despite a 7-9 record, winning the last two games under Noll at home against the Cincinnati Bengals and Cleveland Browns.

On December 26, 1991, Noll announced his retirement from football after 39 consecutive seasons, the last 23 as the Steelers' head coach, which made him one of only four men to coach the same team for 23 consecutive years. He left as the fifth-winningest coach in NFL history with an overall record of 209-156-1, and as the only coach to win four Super Bowls. Noll was rewarded in 1993 with his election to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility.

A new era began in 1992 with the retirement of Noll and the arrival of 34-year-old Bill Cowher, the National Football League's youngest head coach at the time he assumed control. In the first season of the new era, the Steelers won the AFC Central division crown for the first time since 1984 with an 11-5 record. While the team enjoyed new-found success, Cowher was recognized by the Associated Press as the NFL's Coach of the Year and six Steelers were selected to the Pro Bowl, the most in more than a decade.

Under Cowher, the Steelers became the first AFC team since the 1970 merger to claim its 10th division title. Their 11-5 record equaled the best in the conference and gave the Steelers home field advantage throughout the playoffs. However, in the first postseason game at Three Rivers Stadium in exactly 10 years, the Steelers were defeated by eventual AFC Champion Buffalo, 24-3.

In 1993, the Steelers earned a wild card playoff berth, marking their first consecutive playoff appearances since the 1983-84 seasons. A 9-7 record was good for second place in the division, but the season ended in a 27-24 overtime loss at Kansas City in an AFC Wild Card game.

The 1994 Steelers won seven of their final eight regular-season games for their strongest finish since 1978. They captured their second division title in three years with an AFC-best 12-4 record. After a 29-9 victory over the Cleveland Browns in the first round of the playoffs, Pittsburgh hosted its first AFC Championship game since 1979. The game went down to the wire and the Steelers lost to the San Diego Chargers 17-13.

At 38, Bill Cowher became the youngest head coach to lead his team to a Super Bowl appearance in 1995. Along the way, Cowher's team captured its third AFC Central division title in four years, made its fourth straight playoff appearance and won the Steelers' first AFC title since 1979. After a first-round bye, they defeated the Buffalo Bills (40-21) and the Indianapolis Colts (20-16), before losing to the Dallas Cowboys 27-17 in Super Bowl XXX in Tempe, Ariz.

In 1996, the Steelers finished 10-6 and earned their fifth consecutive trip to the playoffs. Cowher ended the season with 57 career victories, ranking him as the second-winningest coach in team history, behind his predecessor Noll.

The Steelers captured their fourth consecutive AFC Central title in 1997 while posting an 11-5 record. They were one play away from earning their sixth Super Bowl appearance but lost to Denver 24-21 in the AFC Championship game.

In 1998, the Steelers finished a disappointing 7-9, losing their last five regular-season games and missing the playoffs for the first time under Cowher.

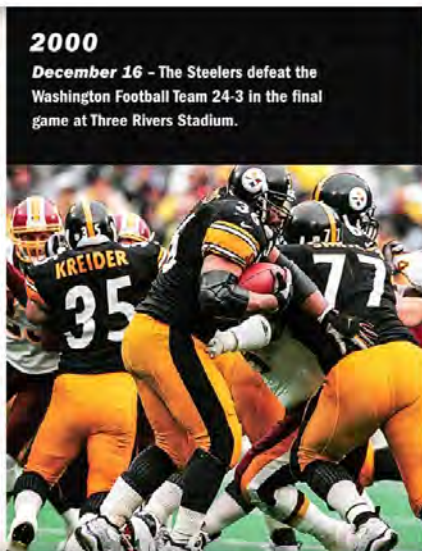

The Steelers suffered their second consecutive losing season in 1999, when their record fell to 6-10.

2000s After starting the 2000 season with an 0-3 record, the Steelers rebounded to finish the year at 9-7 and barely missed the playoffs.

However, 2000 will be remembered most for being the final season for the Steelers at Three Rivers Stadium. The Steelers were 4-4 at home during their final season, including victories in four of their final six home games. The Steelers won their final game at Three Rivers, 24-3, against the Washington Football Team on Dec. 16.

The Steelers finished 31 seasons at Three Rivers Stadium (1970-2000) with a 182-72 home record, including the postseason. The Steelers recorded their largest regular-season home attendance figures (440,428) since 1998 in the final season, including a season-high 58,183 fans during the final game in stadium history.

The Steelers began a new era in team history in 2001 with the opening of their new stadium, Heinz Field. The Steelers posted an AFC-best 13-3 regular-season record, including a 7-1 mark at home, and advanced to the AFC Championship Game.

The inaugural game at Heinz Field was originally scheduled to be a nationally televised Sunday Night game on Sept. 16. However, the September 11 terrorist attacks on America forced the NFL to postpone all games that weekend — which were eventually rescheduled for the end of the season. As a result, the Steelers opened Heinz Field on Sunday, Oct. 7 with a 16-7 win against the Cincinnati Bengals.

The Steelers defeated the defending Super Bowl Champion Baltimore Ravens 27-10 in the AFC Divisional Playoffs, in the first-ever postseason game played at Heinz Field. However, they suffered a disappointing 24-17 loss at home in the AFC Championship Game to the eventual Super Bowl Champion New England Patriots.

After an 0-2 start in 2002, the Steelers rallied to make the playoffs for the second consecutive season. However, the team's Super Bowl hopes ended when they lost 34-31 in overtime to the Tennessee Titans on the road in an AFC Divisional Playoff game.

The Steelers began the 2003 season with a 3-15 victory against AFC North rival Baltimore Ravens. However, the team never regained that magic and finished the year with a 6-10 record and missed the playoffs for the first time in three seasons.

The Steelers set a team record in 2004 by becoming the first AFC team to win 15 games (15-1) in the regular season. They ultimately advanced to the AFC Championship Game where they lost to the New England Patriots 41-27. Nine Steelers were selected to play in the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl, the team's most since the 1979 season.

Pittsburgh found itself sitting at 7-5 after 12 games in 2005, but rallied to win its final four regular-season games to earn the AFC's sixth seed in the playoffs. The Steelers then won an unprecedented three straight road playoff games to gain a berth in Super Bowl XL in Detroit versus the Seattle Seahawks.

Wide receiver Santonio Holmes was named MVP after hauling in the game-winning six-yard touchdown pass from Ben Roethlisberger with 35 seconds remaining in regulation.

Tomlin became the first coach in franchise history to win a division title in each of his first two seasons when the Steelers captured their second consecutive AFC North division title with a 12-4 record in 2008. They went on to defeat the San Diego Chargers and Baltimore Ravens to gain a berth in Super Bowl XLIII in Tampa, Fla., versus the Arizona Cardinals.

The Steelers became the first NFL franchise to capture six Super Bowl titles when they defeated the Cardinals 27-23. With the victory, Tomlin became the youngest coach to win a Super Bowl in NFL history (36 years, 323 days). Wide receiver Santonio Holmes was named MVP after hauling in the game-winning six-yard touchdown pass from Ben Roethlisberger with 35 seconds remaining in regulation.

The Steelers added to their legacy, making it all the way to Super Bowl XLV after a 12-4 record during the 2010 season. The team could not overcome an early 18-point deficit and fell to the Green Bay Packers 31-25. Despite the loss, the Steelers still are tied for the NFL record for most Super Bowl victories with six.

The team donned a CHN commemorative patch in honor of the late Chuck Noll during the 2014 season. The team also retired Joe Greene's No. 75, all during its year of celebrating the team's 40th anniversary of its first championship with a uniform patch in 2014.

On April 13, 2017, the Steelers lost their Hall of Fame owner and Chairman, Ambassador Dan Rooney. The team wore a commemorative patch in honor of the late Mr. Rooney throughout the 2017 season.
